With more than 40 years of experience in corporate law, corporate finance, general business law, and real estate, I bring a steady hand and a wealth of knowledge to every engagement. I strive to strike the right balance between tenacity and practicality, ensuring that my clients receive the time, attention, and strategic guidance they deserve.

One of the most rewarding aspects of my career is developing long-term relationships with clients. By getting to know them and their businesses, I can craft tailored solutions that address both immediate needs and long-term objectives. Clients value my attention to detail, thorough preparation, and commitment to seeing every matter through to completion.

I work with businesses of all sizes, from emerging start-ups to well-established companies, on a broad range of matters, including business formation, corporate finance, mergers and acquisitions, shareholder disputes, and real estate transactions. My extensive experience includes preparing and negotiating complex agreements for business acquisitions, commercial loans, leasing transactions, employment arrangements, licensing agreements, and corporate governance matters. I also advise boards of directors, senior management, and shareholders on fiduciary duties and shareholder relations.

Each transaction is unique, influenced by the stakeholders involved and the objectives at hand. I approach each matter with the technical precision and practical insight needed to achieve my clients' desired outcomes while fostering growth and desired outcomes while fostering growth and stability.
