Jacob Enger

Paralegal

When clients face seemingly insurmountable challenges, I am here to assist. As a paralegal, I am passionate about helping clients navigate difficult decisions through active listening and compassionate legal support.

As part of Henson Efron's family law team, I bring a tenacious and hardworking approach to every case, supporting attorneys and clients with strong case management and organizational skills. My responsibilities include preparing for mediations, settlement conferences, and trials; drafting motions, affidavits, and other pleadings; and organizing and preparing informal and formal discovery. I also assist with financial calculations and analyses, including budgets, spousal maintenance, and child support, as well as preparing property division spreadsheets and drafting qualified domestic relations orders.

My service in the Minnesota National Guard has strengthened my ability to adapt to new challenges, stay focused under pressure, and collaborate effectively within a team. These qualities, combined with my commitment to learning and growth, allow me to contribute meaningfully to our clients' success. Transitions are inherently emotional and uncertain, but my goal is to help create a positive client experience and work toward securing a better future for them.
